

SRQ Media Group: Where The Votes Are

August 30, 2016 Primary Election

Turnout

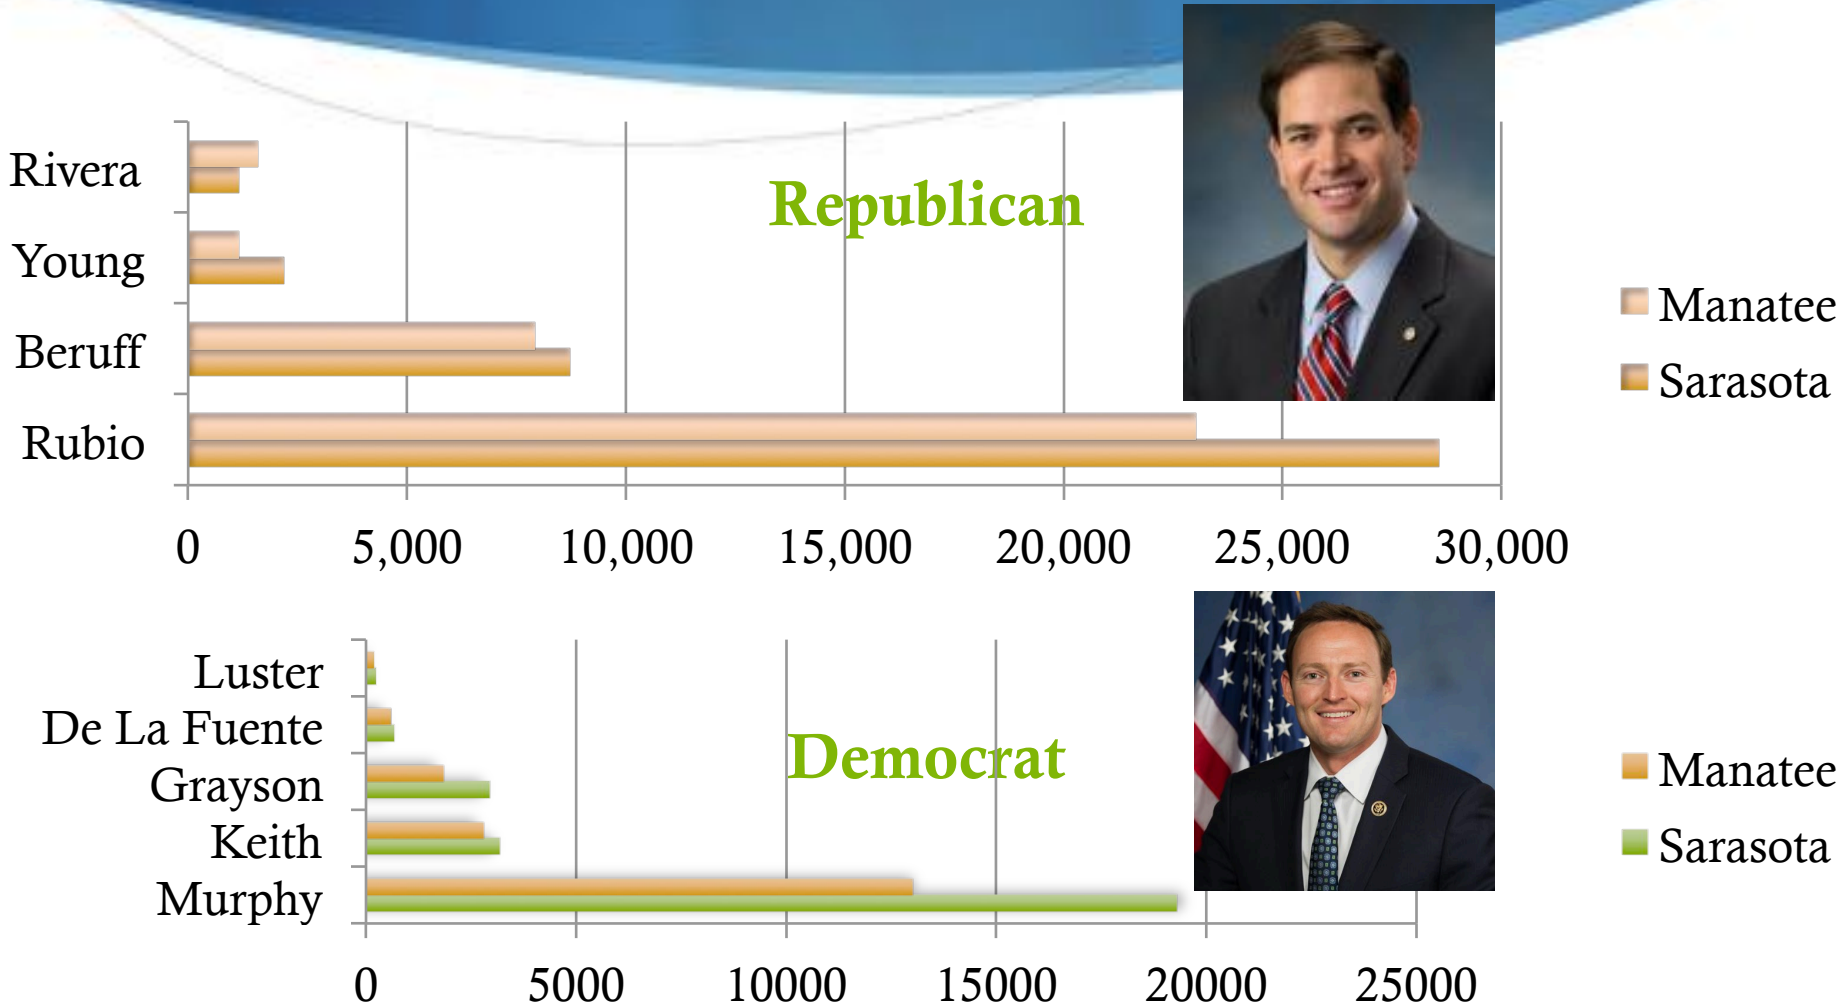

- ◆ Turnout in rural areas and in central Sarasota County was higher than in cities.

US Senate

Rubio easily beat Beruff on Gulf Coast home turf. He also beat Murphy in terms of raw turnout. (totals shown Sarasota and Manatee)

State Senate District 23 - R

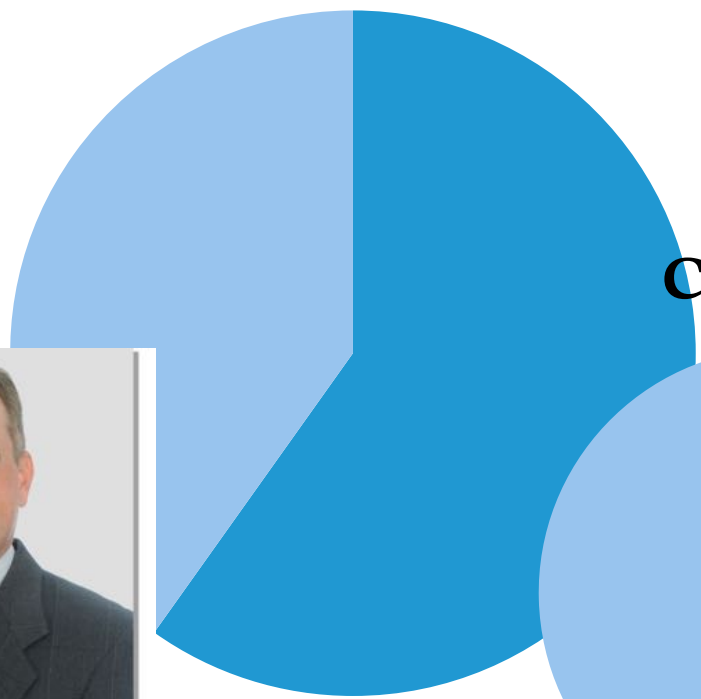

Greg Steube placed first or second place in all but 33 out of 137 precincts. Other candidates had more concentrated support. Doug Holder did well in state House district 74, similar to his old district. Patterson did well in 70, 72.

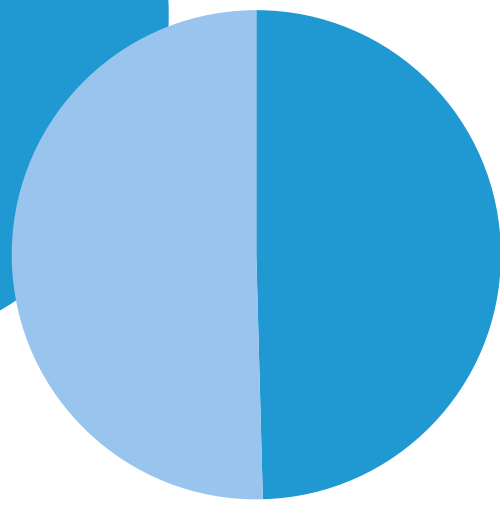

State Senate District 23 - D

The best news for Frank Alcock is more people voted for him than did for Greg Steube (17,118 to 15382). But he showed a weakness in the southern part of the district, even losing Charlotte to Cirillo in the primary.

Sarasota School Board

Caroline Zucker won every single precinct where registered Democrats outnumbered Republicans. Mast did best in conservative bastions like Venice and Englewood.

US House 16 & State House 70

Vern Buchanan won more than 22,000 more votes than Jan Schneider, and got more votes than her in 11 Democratic precincts.

Newton lost Sarasota and Manatee, but could win the race with Pinellas votes alone

Manatee School Board

The School Board race in District 1 showed scattered support and a lot of room for growth for Messenger and Viltz. But Miner had a solid night, and Servia must find a way to get supporters from him to compete.

County Commission

- ◆ Moran, Trace and Baugh all dominated through most of their respective constituencies, even while facing opponents who clearly had a base of support.

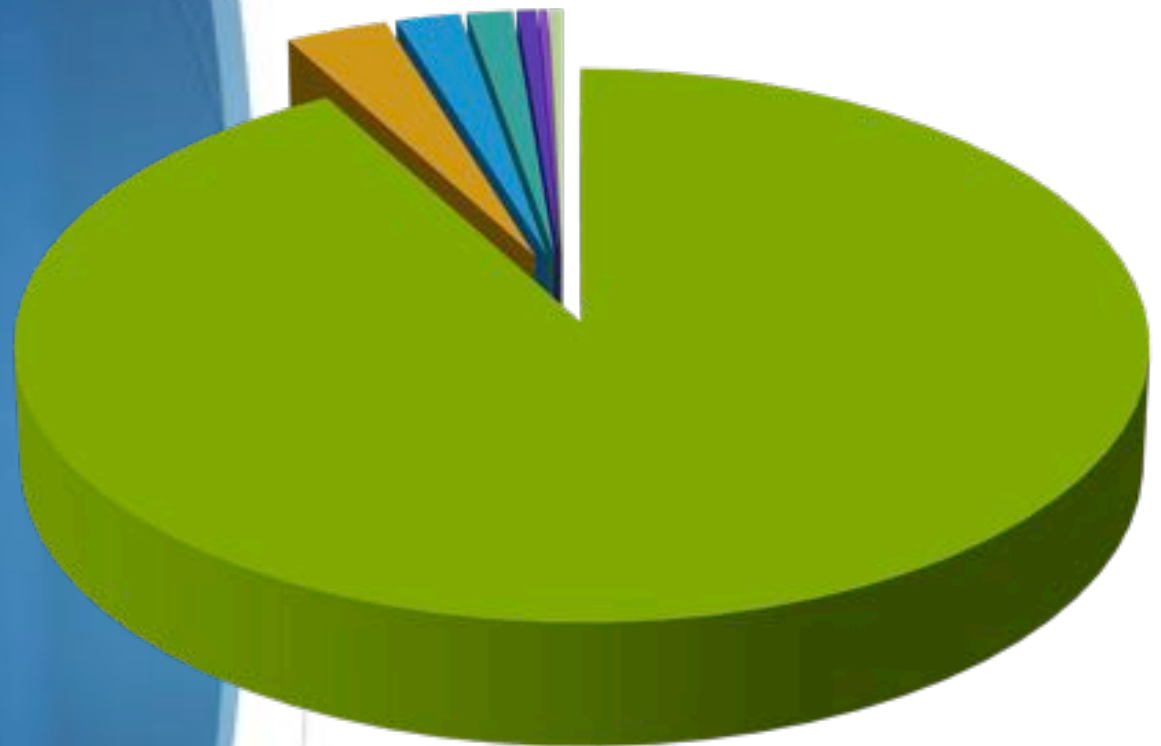

Demographics

Young voters remain both a minority of voters and a poor performing group for turnout.

Race Breakdown

Minority turnout was slightly higher in Manatee than Sarasota among all groups but Hispanics. Of note, registered Hispanics in Sarasota now outnumber black voters. But white voters continue to be an outsized portion of the electorate.
